FIREMEN STAND BY with a resuscitator unit while awaiting the arrival of the ambulance following the 80-foot plunge by Rudy Brothers Circus aerialist Trygne (Tel) Taigen. More than 1000 adults and children watched as the performer plunged to the ground from an 80-foot high platform on which he was performing. The circus was held to benefit local Lions Club charities. Norwegian Aerialist Loses Balance, Falls to Death

More than 1,000 local adults and children watched horrified Sunday afternoon as an aerialist for Rudy Brothers Circus plunged to his death from the top of an 80-foot pole at the Polo Grounds arena during the annual Lions Club Charity Circus.

Trygne (Tel) Taigen, 34-year-old Norwegian, was pronounced dead at Desert Hospital, after plunging 80 feet after attempting the difficult hand stand on the top of three chairs balanced high above the ground.

APPARENTLY ONE of the chairs slipped and spectators gasped as the young man made an attempt to grab a buy-wire, missed, and fell to the ground.

For many the circus ended then as hundreds left the arena to go home, but the ringmaster announced the next act and the show went on.

TAIGEN'S WIFE, and fellow performer, Gerda, was near the scene at the time of the accident, and on hearing the audience gasp, looked up but was blinded by the sun. Moments later she saw her husband hit the tankard.

Here from Norway only a short time, it was a double tragedy for the Taigens. The couple had had only small engagements lately and this was only his second appearance with Rudy Brothers Circus.

ABOUT SIX MONTHS ago Taigen had another fall which injured his back and caused a memory blank. He had just recuperated from those injuries.

The Taigen's baby, which is three months old, was sleeping in a trunk in "performer's alley" when the accident happened.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m., today, at Wiefels and Son Chapel with Dr. James Blackstone, pastor of the Palm Springs Community Church, officiating. The body will be taken to Evergreen Cemetery in Los Angeles and will be interred in Showman's Rest.

Cold Wave Drops Temps In Midwest

Texas Plagued By Tornadoes, Thunderstorms

By UNITED PRESS
A cold wave with temperatures plunging as low as 15 degrees bit into the Northern Midwest early today, and the southward flow of cool air touched off new weather violence in flood-plagued Texas.

A hard freeze, which could be damaging this late in the season, was expected over sections of the Northern Plains and the Upper Mississippi Valley today.

IN TEXAS, A break in the levee along the rain-swollen Trinity River sent floodwaters swirling across an estimated 3,000 acres of crop and pasture land south of Dallas.

A confirmed tornado ripped into the Central Texas community of Downing Monday night, destroying several homes, and tornado winds damaged one home at Bridgeport in North Central Texas.

A THUNDERSTORM dumped three inches of rain at Caddo, Tex., Monday afternoon and hail storms pounded Krum and Gainesville, Tex.

At least four persons were reported dead in weather-caused accidents in the Southwest since the weekend.

Smaller floods washed out roads in East Texas, Northwest Louisiana and Southern Arkansas.

THE BLAST OF cold Canadian air in the North plunged readings an average of 20 to 25 degrees during the night. Duluth, Minn., reported an early morning reading of 15, and temperatures in the low 20s were common over a wide area from the Dakotas east to Lake Michigan.

A Northern League baseball game at Grand Forks, N.D., was called off Monday night because of snow, and an American Association game at Duluth was postponed due to cold weather.

To the south, overnight readings were held to the 30s and 40s in the Central Plains and got no higher than the 50s in Northwest Texas.

Highway 111 Strategy Discussed

Advisory Planning Group Prepares For June Meeting

Aiming for immediate expansion of Highway 111, members of the Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee are preparing for their June meeting with the State Highway Commission.

County Supervisor George Berkeley last night told the CVAPC that the commission is ready to hear committee arguments against a Highway 111 freeway route and proposals for highway widening.

DURING THE NEXT month, a special CVAPC highway sub-committee will confer with State Sen. Nelson Dilworth and Assemblyman Lee Backstrand to seek additional support for their highway program.

Berkeley appeared before the highway commission last week, but reported that the conference wound up as a preliminary discussion on CVAPC requests to divorce a state-proposed freeway from the committee's expansion program.

MEANWHILE, LETTERS from various state highway agencies to the CVAPC have acknowledged committee resolutions on the highway problem and indicated that studies are now under way.

The highway problem is being studied by the State Department of Public Works and the San Bernardino office of the Division of Highways.

IT WAS NOTED by the San Bernardino highway engineer's office that the state will be unable to secure rights-of-way for a freeway route two miles north of the present highway alignment for at least two years.

The agency reported that the state is only able to secure immediate rights - of - way for the present freeway plan, calling for freeway routing along the Highway 111 alignment - a program to which the CVAPC is unanimously opposed.

British Explode 'Clean' H-Bomb

LONDON — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan announced today that the nuclear device exploded by Britain Monday was "in the megaton range."

That meant, in other words, that it almost certainly was an H-bomb.

Macmillan told the House of Commons that scientific measurements are being collected for accurate evaluation, "but early indications are that the fallout will be negligible. The test was in the megaton range."

PINNED BENEATH an automobile, with two broken legs, Harry Schultz, 22, of Los Angeles, is comforted by his friend and companion Salvador J. Greco, 24, also of Los Angeles, while they wait for an ambulance. The young man was crushed between the bumpers of two cars, after the car on the left, driven by William R. Bellows, 65, of Pasadena, was struck by a car being driven by Mrs. Laura Matich, 64, of Palm Springs. Bellows had pulled his car over on the wrong side of the road to warn motorists of a breakdown of the Schultz car, and left his headlights burning to show the edge of the road. Both cars were reported off the road. With Mrs. Matich were Mrs. Rose Chance of Palm Springs and Charles Matich, about 75 years old, were injured in the accident. The California Highway Patrol is continuing its investigation of the accident. (Desert Sun Photo)

Sales, Use Tax Receipts Show Steady Increase

Palm Springs sales and use tax receipts hit a new high of $222,795 through February this fiscal year, reflecting a substantial increase in the city's business volume.

Shelby V. Langford, city finance director, reported that the tax total for the period from July 1 through Feb. 28 evidenced a 13 per cent increase in business volume over the same period last year.

The July - February total for fiscal 1957 was set at $168,607, but, Langford explained, a large part of the difference in the two figures is contained in such recent changes as the addition of the use tax, collection of taxes by the state and new businesses.

Langford said that 14 per cent of the increase was attributed to new business firms in the city.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — The Navy flung its Vanguard into space Monday night, but the rocket's third stage failed to ignite and crashed back into the ocean still clasp the hoped-for fourth U.S. satellite.

Charred Bodies of 4 Victims Removed From Plane Crash

The charred bodies of four persons were removed today from the wreckage of a light plane which crashed and burned in a 2,000-foot deep canyon about 30 miles southwest of Indio.

Sheriff's deputies, who made their way down to the wreckage Monday after receiving a report that a plane had crashed there Sunday, tentatively identified the victims as:

FRANK SOMMA, 24, and his wife, Shirley, 24, and Thomas Sestanovich, 29, all of Los Angeles, and Richard Mitchell, a Marine from Camp Pendleton.

Deputies said Sestanovich was believed to have been the pilot of the craft, which was thought to have left Van Nuys Airport early Sunday morning and stopped at Desert Air Hotel before getting caught in downdrafts over the canyon.

Light Voting Recorded Today

A low but favorable vote is expected today in the $1,550,000 Sewer Bond election, which is the third attempt by the City of Palm Springs to get sewer bonds approved in this resort community.

With less than 5 per cent of the town sewered, this program will build a new sewage disposal plant, install some main lines, and set a program into motion which will make it possible for sections of the town to connect to the sewer under an assessment district.

An early tabulation of the number of votes cast indicated that slightly more than 4 per cent of the voters went to the polls in the first few hours of voting. The measure must pass by a two-thirds majority.

Says Soviet Union Planes Are on Alert

SAC General Denies Flights Menace Peace

MOSCOW — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said tonight the United States must halt H-bomb flights or bear "grave responsibilities . . . for possible consequences."

Gromyko raised the issue of U. S. Strategic Air Command flights for the second time at a press conference coinciding with Russia's renewed initiative in the U. N. Security Council.

HE WARNED THE U. S. it must discontinue the H-bomb flights or face the consequences "for the provocative actions of the American air force."

Gromyko had told the Moscow press corps last week that several times the American lights brought the world within a "hair's breath" of war. He said the Soviet Union had to take measures for "instant" action when American planes headed toward the minister said that the reports of

TODAY THE SOVIET foreign minister said that on one occasion H-bomb flights had "agitated public opinion in all countries."

Moscow first raised the issue of U. S. bomber alerts after the publication of a dispatch by United Press President Frank H. Bartholomew. The dispatch described precautions of the U. S. Strategic Air Command against surprise attack.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY of Defense Murray Snyder later said the Bartholomew dispatch "accurately and correctly" described SAC operations.

Monday night, Gen. Thomas S. Power said at SAC headquarters in Omaha, Neb., that U.S. nuclear bomb flights did not menace peace. He said American aircraft would always be turned back by the "fail safe" system. "Few were the people who were not profoundly alarmed on learning that on more than one occasion mankind had been on the brink of atomic war," Gromyko said.

He declared that the U. S. "could not deny" the charges in his statement last week.

Beer Drinking Spree Before, After, Burglaries, Leads To Arrest of Two Junior High Students, Two Adults

A beer drinking spree that led to a trail of Talmadge Canyon burglaries ended in a trip to city jail today for two junior high school boys and their two young adult companions.

Police said the juveniles, aged 13 and 14, were charged with burglary and the adults faced charges of suspicion of burglary and contributing to the delinquency of minors.

DETECTIVE DOCK HARRIES said the juveniles admitted taking about $279 in cash and $25 worth of clothing in four separate canyon thefts, sharing the loot with their older companions.

Charged with suspicion of burglary and awaiting filing of delinquency counts are Ira Lee Henderson, 20, who lives on a South Palm Canyon Drive Ranch, and Howard D. Thompson, 21, of 36-385 Eagle Canyon Drive, Talmadge Canyon.

HARRIES SAID Henderson is now on probation for burglary and Thompson has a prior criminal record. Both juveniles also have records, police said.

The juveniles disclosed that they had "ditched school" Friday and were picked up by their older pals. They went on a beer drinking spree that took them from Palm Springs to Indio and Talmadge Canyon.

AT THE CANYON, the juveniles took $25 from a swimmer's trousers at the canyon swimming hole, went on to a parked auto, which they broke into and took about $25 worth of clothing and went on to a camper's tent.

They said they took about $75 worth of clothing and a knife from the tent and returned to the car. Prying open the glove compartment with the stolen knife, they took $148 in cash, which was split four ways, HARRIES said.

HARRIES SAID all four took off for Mexicali, where they wound up in jail overnight Friday after being arrested in a bar.

Meanwhile, police investigating the canyon crimes found information that the juveniles were seen in the canyon Friday and arrested the two on their return here Saturday.

The youngsters claimed their companions waited out of sight when they committed the burglaries. Thompson claimed to have no part in the burglaries but admitted sharing in the loot, HARRIES said.

Sheriff's deputies cooperated in the arrest of Henderson Sunday and Thompson Monday, HARRIES said.

Cardinal Stritch Cheerful Despite Army Amputation

ROME — Cardinal Samuel Stritch, cheerful despite the loss of his right arm in an emergency operation, was kept under sedation today to ease the throbbing pain.

Doctors said his condition was "most satisfactory" and church sources said he was "anxious to get back to work."

Amputation of the 70-year-old American churchman's right arm above the elbow Monday apparently saved his life. A blood clot had cut off circulation to the lower portion of his arm and gangrene had set in.

A tube remained in the cardinal's upper arm to drain off waste. But medical sources said they expected no post-operative complications.

Stritch appeared in good spirits. "He is a model of courage and spiritual strength," Msgr. Patrick Hayes, rector of Holy Name Cathedral in Chicago and a close friend of the prelate, said after visiting him Monday night.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — A 29-year-old newsboy and his 85-year-old bride, a great-grandmother, honeymooned at home today following a fancy hotel wedding and a televised reception.

The bride, Mrs. Laura Belle Wilson, announced "I may look old, but I don't feel that way," after the wedding ceremony in the governor's suite of the Van Orman Hotel Monday afternoon.

HER NEW HUSBAND, Jim Bough, who supplements his income by mowing lawns, grumbled a bit at the lack of television cameras during the wedding because "a lot of my friends are going to be watching."

But Bough beamed when he saw the television cameras set up to cover the reception. No pictures were allowed at the ceremony which was attended by 15 members of the family and about the same number of newsmen.

DEMOCRATIC MAYOR Thomas Lemon officiated at the 10-minute, double-ring ceremony.

Parade Judges Offer Wise Recommendations

Veteran judges of this year's Desert Circus Week parade have included some suggestions in their report well worthy of consideration in planning future events.

Primarily, these deal with establishing limits on the number of entries in certain divisions, and an advance in starting time to escape the midday temperature.

The thousands who participated in or watched the recent record breaking and splendid event will doubtless concur in the wisdom of these observations.

While "everybody loves a parade," the popularity and consequently the size of the Desert Circus Parade has grown to such proportions that some limitation on the number of riders, marchers and entries must be imposed if it is to be within reasonable time limits for both the participants and the viewers.

And the longer the parade, the later it starts, the slower it moves and the more "waits" are involved for all concerned, plus the warmer it gets under our beaming desert sun.

The committee which directed this year's dazzling spectacle did an excellent job considering its size and the difficulties encountered.

But, as suggested by the judges, there is no question that a considerably earlier starting time and limitation of size to less unwieldy proportions would make for more efficient and effective handling and presentation, and likewise greatly add to the enjoyment and satisfaction of the vast waiting audience.

As demonstrated in Pasadena, people who love a parade will be on hand at 9 o'clock or earlier, and the paraders themselves are up as early as preparations require.

With all the enthusiasm here, Palm Springs need be no exception.

The Ultimate Aircraft

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Long is the arm of coincidence. The fall of the 24th French Government since V-E Day has given a boost to the lagging program for an atomic powered aircraft.

Add to the crumbling of France, the sire of Egyptian President Nasser and the increasing vulnerability of our overseas bases to the Russian middle-range missiles today, the testimony of Secretary Dulles before the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

THE SECRETARY of State came along asking Congress to give atomic secrets to NATO allies. He admitted that this was the price to keep Western Europeans from a "move toward neutrality, or at least non-participation" in defending their homeland and our military bases.

When Dulles used the above-quoted phrase and began harping upon its significance, a Senator got up and left the room. He told this reporter outside the door that the Secretary's testimony was a strong reminder of an unsolved problem before the Joint Committee—that of the atomic plane.

IT IS A VEXING problem from more angles than one. In bare outline, the question is of choosing between a crash program and an orderly development of the reactor-driven aircraft. On the hurry-up side is Rep. Melvin Price (D., Ill.) who recently visited Russia and feels that the Soviets are only 18 months from flying a nuclear-powered plane. Price thinks that American prestige demands an all-out drive to beat the Russians into the sky.

This would involve putting an atomic reactor into a large plane, like the KC-135, or the British seaplanes, "The Princess." It would mean taking a chance on several unknown quantities, including radio-active poisoning.

SPOKESMEN FOR orderly development of an atomic plane say that this do-it-now plan is both impractical and unwise. They say there is no guarantee that a spurge of money and manpower would overcome the difficulties which are, mainly, two in number—weight and lethal radiation.

It will take time to achieve the necessary break-throughs. The White House science advisor, Dr. James Killian believes that scientific manpower can be better spent on other projects.

THERE ARE MANY complications in this debate. One is the President's seeming instability of decision. True, Mr. Eisenhower has apparently sided with Dr. Killian, but important Joint Committee members are asking, "For how long?"

The word on Capitol Hill is that the President was on the point of taking good advice and vetoing the Highways bill, but then an outside force unpinged and caused him to reverse this firm position. This time tomorrow will be for gradual development of the atomic plane? Or will he flash the signal for rapid progress?

ANOTHER WRINKLE is the attitude of Senator Henry (Scoop) Jackson, chairman of the military applications subcommittee. Jackson is a sincere and doctrinaire internationalist, but he can see what is happening to the security of our overseas bases. They are already unsteady and the prospect of an early-flying atomic plane would give the rug another jerk.

Jackson, although temperamentally for crash programs, has tried for a satisfactory compromise. He is for developing a useful atomic plane which would be able to stay aloft indefinitely and would tend to free the USA from a dependence upon overseas bases.

BUT JACKSON TRIES to save his international posture. He proposes that the United States cooperate with Britain and other allies in bringing out the nuclear-driven plane. It's questionable how much money, materials or manpower any other nation could or would contribute.

Meanwhile, at the Aro plant in Idaho, General Electric goes ahead with the work of developing this latest version of the "ultimate air vehicle. On a project of this size and glamour, there is bound to be a large amount of rumor and unconfirmed reports.

Senator Henry Dworshak (R) of Idaho, a Joint Committee member, is under pressure from his State to release more hard news items. But the Senator, a newspaper publisher in the past, is a man of conscience who has closed his lips over much fascinating and valuable data.

ANYHOW, the wobbly condition of foreign alliances seems to be an expedient, in this major aviation program. Political necessity may not mother a technological break-through—but there's one thing it could do that would set the program rolling.

It could force the Atomic Energy Commission to set a tentative target date for getting the atomic plane aloft. Those vitally interested in seeing the country get this new weapon sav that a target date is essential. They need a spot on the calendar to aim at.

Overall neatness
Tops the rules
For those who labor
For our schools.

I think that is a good idea of the trustees of the Palm Springs Unified School district in decreasing that personnel having charge of taking care of school equipment and grounds and of driving the youngsters to and fro, be uniformed.

NO BRASS BUTTONS to awe the little monsters on the buses but overalls. The best part of it is that the district will take care of the cleaning and laundering.

So when a bus driver gets pinked between the shoulder blades by a well-aimed spitball from the rear of the bus he doesn't have to worry about the cleaning bill. It isn't his.

ALWAYS THOUGHT that the reason there were so many of these small foreign-made automobiles on our highways was because they were cheaper to buy, cheaper to run and easier to park.

But in a news dispatch the other day, I see that the reason so many of them are being sold is that the buyers want to be "different."

BUT IF THE TREND keeps up, they'll defeat themselves. It will be the guy in the big car who is different.

Just like when two-toned automobiles first came in. Then they were distinctive.

Now it's the man in the plain black car whose vehicle stands out on the highways.

COMES A COMPLAINT from a Villager who had let his driver's license lapse by several weeks. He had trouble when he went up to the Legio Hall last Thursday to renew it.

So he advocated the idea that the Department of Motor Vehicles keep track of all drivers and send each one a postcard before his license is due to expire, reminding him to get the heck up to the renewal office.

CAN'T SEE THAT. With all of the millions of drivers in the state, imagine what it would cost at a penny a postcard. . . And all of the clerical work involved in checking each driver. When a fellow forgets his wife's birthday or the wedding anniversary, he's in the doghouse.

Why shouldn't he be if he forgets his license?

LAST WEEK on the sports page of The Desert Sun appeared a headline, "Podres Handcuffs New York 13 to 1." Just to show how far and wide The Sun is read, this week from Lake County, which is on the other side of San Francisco, came a letter:

"Will you please send this modern day Rip Van Winkle an alarm clock? He's probably one of those backward easterners who thinks that the far eastern city of Chicago is in the middle of the West." It was from Bill Conlin, an expert on fairs (auditing) formerly of Palm Springs and India.

And another comment on that headline was:

"And I suppose Podres was pitching for Brooklyn."

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

I flew into Tokyo with a complete Mexican dinner for 10 people. Frozen, dry-iced and packed in the cold belly of a big Boeing.

"I hope you scattered your cigarettes through your luggage," said the Pan American man at the airport. "Japanese customs are tough on cigarettes right now. But they only charge duty on what they actually see."

THE JAPANESE Customs man looked at the luggage and then at me.

"Open, please."

I stalled with the lock until the baggage boy lifted the two boxes of Mexican food on the counter.

"HOW MANY cigarettes you have?" The Customs man drew in his breath politely at the end of each sentence. "Hiss."

"No cigarettes in the boxes. Tortillas?" "Hiss."

"And tacos. Also a few enchiladas. All cooked. All frozen."

THE CUSTOMS man turned to my bags. "You have cigarettes in baggage?" "Hiss."

"Just enough for my personal needs." (I had five cartons stacked together. If he would only stay on t'e food—) "Also in these boxes are a few bottles of salsa picante."

"Where food come from?" "Papagayo Room. San Francisco."

"Ah, so." Hiss. "No fruit, no nuts, no plants."

"Not a one."

THE CUSTOMS man dipped into a bag and pulled out a handful of uncooked, fresh chiles. Obviously the Papagayo Room had put in some added starters. I tried to get the Customs man back on cigarettes.

"I have cigarettes in the bag," I said quickly.

"Is a plant, ne?" said the Customs man jiggling the peppers. He dumped them on the counter. Hundreds of them! So it seemed.

"Shall I show you the cigarettes?"

THE CUSTOMS man called over the chief Customs man. They poked through the green, uncooked chiles. Like Customs men all over, they were delighted with such a problem.

"Plants, fruits, nuts cannot come in Japan."

"I have five cartons of cigarettes here," I said desperately unzipping the cover. "I wish to make a free and voluntary confession and—"

"May be have nuts and fruit, too?" Hiss.

"Just the chile peppers. I swear—"

"Must have conference," said the Customs man. He went over in a corner and began to thumb through a Customs book. Probably titled, "Ways and Means to Rack Foreigners Smuggling in Chile Peppers."

AT THIS POINT I hoped Customs would take a great, big, hot bite of a chile pepper. I saw 10 Mexican dinners confiscated. The Customs man and the Customs chief came back. They looked sad.

"Where plants come from?" Hiss.

"From San Francisco." Hiss.

"Plants not allowed come in Japan," said the Customs man.

"OK. Take them away."

"EXCEPT THESE plants from San Francisco," he said.

"Thank you! Thank you!" "Now, said the Customs man with a small smile, "you bring plenty cigarettes."

"Just enough for myself," I cried.

"Only 200 piece allowed without duty," said the Customs man. "That will be 2000 yen, please. Maybe about $8 American money. You change money over there. You pay here. Thank you so much. Ah, so." Hiss.

Hiss.

Ex-Queen for a Night

NEW YORK — We thought you should know that B'way's attitude toward royalty's still "So whaddya want from me?" Ex-Queen Soraya did the Palladium Ballroom bit recently . . . the ex-Queen didn't care to be introduced but the King and Queen of Mambo got a heluva hand from the mamboists who'd never heard of Soraya.

"Have you a request?" asked star dancer "Killer Joe," politely. "Yes, please get those men (the bouncers) out of the way so I can see!" said the ex-Queen. A cameraman then asked her if she'd pose.

"Do you want us to leave?" warred Michael Butler, host to Soraya.

"I don't care what t'ell you do!" shrugged the photog, shooting away.

A long time later they left—by cab. The King and Queen of Mambo likewise departed—by limousine.

After beautiful blonde actress Lois O'Brien of Philadelphia, Doylestown and Hollywood married Georgie Wood, the agent (with Father Bob Perella, Perry Com's priest, officiating), all Show Biz danced it up—even Jane Frolman, now recovered from her last surgery, ready to work again. Wood, adviser to Frank Sinatra (who doesn't take advice) got as a wedding gift a TV set—a hint that he stay home nights.

(Paar says he was misquoted about calling a certain enemy "the biggest (censored) in America." Explains Jolly Jack: "I did not confine it to America!")

Babs Hutton's living "in intense discomfort" in Tangiers casbah—says a London paper. But in Casablanca, the Moroccan Courier published by ex-U.S. Marine Art Rosset of Brooklyn retorts: "If tearing down 28 Arab houses to make one large palace is intense discomfort, then it's true Hutton ain't got nuttin'."

David Niven, while a sea-going mess officer once served gobs of caviar to all hands. The refrigeration had busted. The caviar had to be used. Proud of his feast, he craved praise. He asked a country-boy sailor how he liked the "chow." "O.K., Lieutenant," drawled the boy. "Cept the jam tasted of fish."

"I knew Eisenhower," bragged Bob Hope, "when he was a general—and had power." Though he gets Person to Personed, Jack Carter says, "My Central Park West apt's so small, I'll have to move out when Ed Murrow's camera crew arrives. There's not room for both of us." . . . Guinness Respects Oscar HOLLYWOOD Some stars use their Oscars for doorstops. Not Alec Guinness. In answer to my query, the British actor named best of the year by a jury of his Hollywood peers for his work in "The Bridge on the River Kwai," wrote to me:

"No doorstep shenanigans for me—it's too great an honor to desecrate it like that. What did I do with him? I put Oscar on my mantel, which I realize makes for very dull copy for your readers—except that I put a mirror on the mantel so that I get a view of Oscar's back too!"

GEORGE STEVENS is having trouble with "The Diary of Anne Frank." Shelley Winters stuffed herself with food to put on weight for her fat sequences and promised to go on a starvation diet for the skinny sequences but now can't quit stuffing herself and George's shooting schedule is a week overboard as a result.

The time has come—like a blossom whose beginning was a tight little bud—a mere promise of its unfolded glory only to know that it must fade. This process of life is repeated often, and all around us—and so it is with my column. I am most grateful to you as a reader. To me it has been a personal and happy relationship with you. Sharing thoughts and ideas has been deeply satisfying to me, and my most sincere hope is deeply satisfying to me, and my most sincere hope it that you have enjoyed it too.

Can't let you go without telling you about the HAPPY SUN DRESSES that are new at ROBINSON'S! They are of that wonderful GUATEMALAN woven cotton — which means that the colorful design is woven right in.

IN TERMS OF a satisfactory long life this is a most significant fact—laundrying makes no impression on their prettiness, even after many seasons of wear. And wear them you will for their summer comfort and because they are flatteringly pretty.

There are two fashion-right styles. One has a softly fitted bodice with a square neckline which dips lower in back than in front and is sleeveless.

with rows and rows of elasticized thread which fits like a glove but breathes with you at the same time. The skirt is full with gathers — an important note is that the fabric is of sufficient body that a slip isn't essential (a cool thought).

The other style also features a square neckline and not a sign of a sleeve — but follows the current dictates of the fashion world with its blouson back fullness and easy lines. The interesting additional detail is a small sash of self material which is attached to the back and ties flirtingly in front.

BACKGROUND COLORS are salmon, red, and two shades of cool blue. The woven design is done in contrasting gay colors significantly vertical in their placement — the more to flatter you with.

These new new sun dresses are exclusive at ROBINSON'S and they promise you the exclusive right to coolness and prettiness during the summer months. (333 South Palm Canyon Drive)

JUST ONE MORE lesson in the psychology of good living. In such a lesson, often the most effective method is one of example. We have such an example in TOM SWANER & PILOT, a member of our community — and one you should be proud to patronize.

Tom has the news stand in the post office where you can purchase your favorite newspaper—magazine — cigars — and even those pleasant NOVO all occasion greeting cards that state your message "with a laugh."

NATURALLY YOU can buy these things at many different places so there is nothing unusual merchandise-wise — except the convenience of getting what you want while making your routine stop at the post office — it only becomes the unusual as you notice that Tom is a BLIND VET.

ERAN who, denied of the privilege of making a living as you and I might — is doing it in the most effective way he can.

This fact raises the compassionate note of our responsiveness — however, the lesson for us is one of courage and happiness, for Tom doesn't consider himself less happy than the rest of us.

TRUE, HE FOUGHT his battle of defeat and helplessness — but he rose above it to come back with true appreciation for the joy of being alive and useful. Would that all of us could face our less difficult situations with the same show of courage and the same resulting happiness.

Tom will be on duty at his post all summer long — from 9 in the morning until 5:30 in the afternoon and when you go in to see him, feel a bit of personal happiness of your own in realizing that you don't help one who is handicapped by sharing his burden — rather by helping him to bear his own.

It's been fun and I shall miss you. I'll be summering with my "four little immature responsibilities" at the beach in Oceanside. If you should have some bright idea about how to harness youthful energy for a useful purpose — I want to hear from you.

Earle C. Anthony Is Hospitalized In San Francisco

Police Chief August Kettmann said he was informed that Anthony has been under treatment at San Francisco's St. Luke's Hospital for the past two weeks. His condition was described as serious, Kettmann said.

Anthony, a major California auto distributor, reportedly collapsed while attending a Bohemian Club function at the Bay City. A Palm Springs resident for more than 25 years, Anthony is well known for his philanthropic activities throughout the West Coast. MARRIED SUNDAY afternoon in the gardens at El Mirador, Barbara Jean Rosin, daughter of the Stanley Rosins, became the bride of Stephen Marshall Platt. (Anderson Photo).

Wedding in El Mirador Gardens

The beautiful natural desert palms and mountains of Palm Springs were the setting for the wedding of lovely Barbara Jean Rosin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rosin of Palm Springs, to Stephen Marshall Platt, son of Mrs. Mar'n Snapp and Mr. Herman Platt of Los Angeles. The ceremony took place in the gardens of El Mirador Hotel on Sunday afternoon with Rabbi Leon Rosenberg officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organdy and applied Alencon lace and fingertip illusion veil with a pearl coronet. Pastel pink, with accents of American Beauty were the colors lending themselves to the beauty of garden baskets of spring bouquets lining the aisle which led to the flower-canopied altar. Miss Peggy Schuler sang for the assembled guests. Miss Jo Ann Rosin attended her sister as maid of honor. The bridesmaids, in gowns of sheer pink organza and pink garden hats, included Miss Susan Platt, the bridegroom's sister, Miss Jean Staley, Miss oan Turk, and Mrs. Paul Perry.

Kenneth Platt served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Messrs. Jess Kopp, Howard Rosin, William Feldman and Jerome Goldhand. Little Miss Sally Lannen, in her floor-length story-book pink organdy, served as her cousin's flower girl.

Upon their return from an Hawaiian honeymoon, the newly-married pair plan to reside in Brentwood.

Society To Present L'Amour

Palm Springs Historical Society will play host to the residents of Palm Springs and surrounding communities on the evening of May 1 when it sponsors a talk by Louis L'Amour, noted author and playwright.

L'Amour is well known for his novels and plays with historical backgrounds. The locales of many are the Colorado and Mojave deserts and Coachella Valley.

Carl Lykken, president of the Historical Society invites all interested persons to this open meeting on May 1, to take place at the Woman's Club at eight o'clock in the evening. There will be no charge for admission.

Every year, the Historical Society organizes two public meetings to acquaint the community with its activities and purpose. This meeting is the second this year, the first having been the Annual Founders Day Picnic at Tamarisk Park.

It is the purpose of the Society to gather and preserve historical records and landmarks and to place comprehensive plaques on historic sites.

L'Amour's talk should be of interest to everyone, based as it will be on near-by places and their historical significance. He is currently at work on a novel, 'The Lonesome Gods,' the action of which takes place in local mountains and desert.

Refreshments will be served at the affair and hostesses are: Gayle Burns, Helen King, Florence Lockett and Margaret Meilink.

Rachel Circle Entertained At Luncheon

One of the most beautiful parties of the month was the Continental Luncheon given by Mrs. Vera Jones recently at her home at 340 Pablo Drive, when she entertained members of the Rachel Circle of the Palm Springs Community Church. Swimming preceded the luncheon.

A long buffet table was elegantly decorated with an imported lace cloth, centered with purple and white orchids, purple tapers in candelabra, and set with the hostess's cherished collection of amethyst glass from all parts of the world. A 150-year-old silver service and chafing dishes graced each end of the table.

Having lived in Europe most of her life and in other parts of the world before making Palm Springs her home, Mrs. Jones has many unusual recipes, which she prepared herself, making the luncheon an adventure in good eating. She was assisted by her houseguest, Mrs. Irene Usaten of Los Angeles, and in serving by Mrs. Dorothy Carlin, Ida MacDavid and Harriett Tracy. Six desserts were featured.

Special guests included Dr. James Blackstone, Mrs. Lorna Little, Mrs. Corinne Carlisle.

Mrs. Carlin, retiring president, introduced Mrs. Pavline Coppas, the new president, who takes office in October. Mrs. Lola Chandler, secretary, made her reports and Mrs. Mary Keller gave the devotional.

Goes Abroad To Make Film

George Sherman, director and owner of the San Lorenzo Apartments on San Lorenzo Road, leaves by air Friday by way of the Polar route, bound for England, where he will direct "Robin Hood" for 20th Century Fox. Much of the shooting for this picture will be done in Sherwood Forest. Sherman expects to be gone almost three months when he will return to the United States to direct a picture for Universal International, starring Audie Murphy.

Mrs. Sherman plans to keep the San Lorenzo apartments open until the first of June when she will leave to spend the summer at their home on Lido Isle with her two granddaughters and her own thirteen-year-old daughter Susie.

Deviled Biscuits As Hot Canapes

For substantial hot canapes at your mid-winter parties, try these deviled biscuits.

Prepare 1 recipe baking powder biscuits or use a mix. Roll dough 1/4 inch thick on floured board. Cut into 2-inch rounds, spread half of them almost to edge with deviled sausage, top with remaining rounds, brush with beaten egg yolk and bake 15 minutes in a 425 degree oven.

The deviled sausage is made by combining 1/2 cup minced or ground skinless frankfurters with 1/4 cup minced pepperoni or Polish sausage. Blend with 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1/2 tablespoon mustard.

Clow-Merwin Wedding Vows Said at St. Pauls Church

In a Saturday evening wedding at St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church, Susan Buckley Merwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loring Merwin of Bloomington, Illinois and Palm Springs, became the bride of James Culbertson Clow, son of Mrs. Beach Clow of Lake Forest, Illinois. The young couple repeated their marriage vows before Rev. William A. Blondon.

The bride walked down the aisle attired in white silk organza in a flowing princess style, with insets of Venice lace and a sabrina neckline. A fingertip veil of illusion fell from an antique Oriental garland of shells. She carried a prayerbook with floral streamers.

Accompanying the bride were: her sister, Miss Amanda Merwin of Bloomington; sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Boyd Edwards of Green Village, New Jersey; cousin of the bride, Miss Alix Ritchie of Bloomington. The attendants wore gowns of afternoon length, inmost green silk organza, princess style with a sabrina neckline and insets of embroidered organza to form an empire bodice. They wore small veiled hats of matching velvet.

Best man was Ensign James R. Donnelly of Lake Forest, and ushers were Boyd Edwards of Green Village, Davis U. Merwin (cousin of bride) of Bloomington, George Plamondon of Chicago, Walborn W. Newcomet Jr. of Sheboygan, Michigan.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Tennis Club.

The bride attended The Masters School at Dobbs Ferry, New York, and Radcliffe College in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

The bridegroom attended St. Paul's School, Lake Forest Academy and Yale University.

They will be at home in New Haven Connecticut in September. Out-of-town guests included: from Lake Forest, Illinois — Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Clow Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Donnelly, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon D. Smith, Mrs. John P. Wilson Jr., Gordon Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Thorne, Miss Elizabeth Thorne; from Bloomington, Illinois — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ritchie; from Cincinnati, Ohio — Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Cole; from Portland, Oregon — Mr. and Mrs. George Sheehan, Miss Aileen Sheehan, Miss Patricia Sheehan, Cameron Sheehan.

New Chemical For Mothproofing

SAN FRANCISCO — Tired of moths chomping away at your clothes? Science has the answer.

A new chemical can be locked in wool while it is being dyed. From then on, the fabric is mothproof for the rest of its life.

This chemical is called dieltrin, a widely used insecticide. Its use as a permanent mothproofing agent was described to the American Chemical Society today by L. E. Mitchell of the Shell Chemical Corporation, New York.

Dieltrin is a colorless and odorless agent. It is applied to the wool in a hot acid bath whereupon it "becomes, for all practical purposes, permanently fixed in the wool fabrication."

Tests showed the insecticide was evenly and firmly distributed in the material. A number of manufacturers are already using it.

The idea of mothproofing wool with dieltrin originated with Dr. N. Lipson of the Commonwealth Scientific Industries Research Organization, Melbourne, Australia.

To keep left-over ham from drying out, cut of some fat and fry it. Let it harden and spread it on the cut end about an inch thick before refrigerating. When ready to slice the ham again, scrape off the fat.

Little Guys and Dolls Weekend At Malley Manor

Malley Manor had as their guests last weekend the Little Guys and Dolls Club of Greater Los Angeles who invaded Palm Springs along with the Monterey Park Girls Drum and Bugle Corps who participated in the Circus Parade. The LGAD's cheerfully shared the pool with the Monterey throng of girls, co-operating with Malley Manor who had generously offered their pool and patio facilities to the Corps as a reward for participation in the parade.

Little Guys and Dolls of Greater Los Angeles is the unusual and new social club for men and women smaller than average stature, height requirements being a maximum of 5 feet 6 inches.

Soderlinds Are Back in Village

Mr. and Mrs. Bro. A. Soderlind and their family are returning to the desert to live. Mrs. Soderlind, the former Diane Jackson, and their four children are already here with her mother, Mrs. Mildred Jackson, and her husband is expected to arrive this weekend.

The family has been living in Minneapolis, where Soderlind had been attending the University, but due to a back injury suffered in an auto accident a year ago, physicians have prescribed the return to a warmer climate.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY, United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK — Nobody proves the fact that if you want to be a winner you have to fight for it better than a guy who pitched for a Class D ball club in the Mountain States League back in 1939.

The boy was described by his manager as "the wildest pitcher I've ever seen." He suggested that the parent club give the boy his release.

Then this boy, who was earning $70 a month, fell and hurt his pitching arm just about the time he got the news that his wife was going to have a baby.

So Stanley Frank Musial became an outfielder and the rest is baseball history.

History, it must be added, which he is rewriting every day with the hottest bat in the major leagues.

STAN THE MAN is 37 now and playing his 16th full season in the major leagues. That original $70-a-month salary has skyrocketed to $100,000-a-year and Musial still looks forward to "one or two more years after this."

It could be more, the way he's playing.

Musial currently has boomed out of the starting gate in pursuit of his eighth National League batting championship with a bloated .533 average for 11 games. One more title ties him with the immortal Honus Wagner, the National League leader with eight championships.

It's too early to tell whether Musial will be able to retain the batting championship, which he grabbed again last season after a five-year lapse.

BUT THE WAY HE is hitting, it is a cinch that he will pick up additional laurels this season by moving up into the distinguished class of those who rapped 3,000 base-hits. It's indicative of Stan's place in baseball history that only seven men accomplished this—Ty Cobb with 4,191; Tris Speaker 3,515; Wagner 3,430; Eddie Collins 3,313; Nap Lajoie 3,251; Paul Waner 3,152 and Cap Anson 3,081.

Musial had 2,957 hits starting this season and his 24 basehits make his current total 2,981. He has "dropped off" to an average of 180 base hits a year in the last three campaigns. Yet, matching that production will move him far ahead of Anson and he could even catch Wagner this season.

Two more years at that reduced pace would give him a chance of moving all the way up to the all-time second place.

MEANWHILE, his fast getaway already has made him the new National League leader in total bases, wiping out Mel Ott's 22-year efforts of 5,041. And every hit which Stan adds moves the mark that much farther out of the reach of some future batting star.

The wiry Musial hasn't been shut out at the plate in any of the St. Louis Cardinals' first 11 games this year. This despite the fact that he is a notoriously slow starter.

It's a tipoff on what a man can do when he sets his heart to it. Just like 19-year-old Stanley Frank Musial did in the long ago when he injured that erratic pitching arm.

Injunction Halts Chavez Ravine Stadium Contract

LOS ANGELES — The proposed city contract with the Dodgers baseball club was blocked today — at least temporarily — by a restraining order preventing official signing.

Superior Judge Kenneth C. Newall issued the taxpayers restraining order and named the city, the city council, the city clerk Mayor Norris Poulson and the Brooklyn National League Baseball Club, Inc.

A further hearing on a preliminary injunction in the taxpayers suit was scheduled for May 2.

The suit challenged the contract on grounds the acreage in Chavez Ravine was transferred to the city from the housing authority under the stipulation the property could be used for "public purposes" only.

Valenzuela Rides Tim Tam in Trial

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Calumet Farm's Tim Tam, the Kentucky Derby favorite, warns up today for Saturday's classic in the $15,000 added Derby trial, with Ismael Valenzuela in the saddle as a replacement for injured Bill Hartack.

Trainer Jimmy Jones of Calumet tagged Valenzuela as rider for Tim Tam in the trial and intimated that the Texas-born rider would also be aboard in the big one. Saturday if things go well in the warmup, Jones said, however, that Valenzuela only had been engaged for the trial and not for the rose run.

P.S. Merchants Brawley Split in Double-Header

Palm Springs Merchants and Brawley split a double-header at the Polo Grounds Sunday, leaving the two teams tied for the lead in the Riverside-Imperial baseball league.

Max Milton did an iron-man stunt and pitched both ends of the double-header, losing the first 9-2 and winning the second, 6-1.

Tom Black, who pitched the first game for the visitors held the Merchants to two scratch singles and for the first time in 16 games this year, they were shut out. Milton allowed six hits.

O. B. Crawford paced the Merchants in the second game with a booming bases-loaded triple in the third inning and had two singles besides in five times at bats. Milton held Brawley to five hits in the second game.

A third team may enter the play-off for the crown. El Centro has one game left and if they win that one, will be tied with Brawley and Palm Springs.

Sunday's scores:
First game R H E
Brawley 5 6 2
Palm Springs 0 2 1

Basketball, Too U.S. Rock n Roll Sends Russians

TIFLIS, U.S.S.R. — The United States' touring basketball teams, which already have taken this southern Soviet city by storm will play two more exhibition games tonight in Dinamo Stadium.

The U.S. men will play the Georgian All-Stars while the Yank women will meet a team from Estonia before a sell-out crowd of about 25,000.

Both American squads won on the same court Monday night. The men rolled to a 95-46 victory over the champions of Azerbaijan while the women defeated a Georgian squad, 42-37, for their first victory of the tour. The men now are unbeaten in three games in Russia.

Popular American rock-and-roll tunes blared over the loudspeakers before Monday's games. The Yanks, both men and women, jitterbugged to the music and then proceeded to hand their hosts a sound trouncing on the court.

The U. S. men's team opened a 43-20 lead at halftime and coasted the rest of the way. Harv Schmidt of the Denver-Chicago Truckers scored 15 points and is Burdy Halderson of the Phillips Oilers added 14.

The Russians appeared fascinated by the sight of members of both American teams chewing gum and also marveled at the girls' bobbed haircuts.

However, what really "sent" them was that rock-and-roll music, once denounced by the Soviet bosses as "rubbish." Nobody was certain where the records came from or whether they will ever be heard again in Tiflis.

Haney Thinks Giants Real Threat in NL

San Francisco No Flash in Pan Says Braves' Top Man

By MILTON RICHMAN, United Press Sports Writer

Braves, knowing all too well how these things can turn out, are bent on putting a quick stop to that surprise party, house-warming or whatever else you want to call it out there in San Francisco.

Up to now, the Giants have been having a ball at their new home in San Francisco. Most everyone picked them sixth or seventh, but here they are leading the National League, a half-game ahead of second-place Milwaukee.

It may be a new sensation for the Giants but it's an old familiar one to the Braves.

ONLY FIVE YEARS AGO, after they had shifted their flag-chase from Boston to Milwaukee, the Braves got off to a flying start, too, winning 15 of their first 20 games.

Like the Giants, no one took 'em seriously at first. After all, they had finished seventh the year before—a notch lower than the Giants wound up last season—but the Braves confounded the experts by developing into a serious pennant threat and finally finishing second.

"Don't forget, too, that during one stretch last year the Giants played the best ball of anyone in the league," says Milwaukee manager Fred Haney. "Maybe others are brushing them off as a flash-in-the-pan, but I'm not."

HANEY IS LEADING with his left-handed ace, Warren Spahn, against the Cubs at Chicago today. Spahn will be shooting for his third straight victory while the Cubs, almost as much as a surprise as the Giants, will be aiming to take over sole possession of second place, which they now share with Milwaukee.

The Giants, meanwhile, will be showing the Phillies San Francisco for the first time. Pittsburgh gets its first look at Los Angeles, and the Cardinals meet the Redlegs in a night game.

OVER IN THE AMERICAN League, the Yankees begin tackling the Western clubs after having won eight of their first 11 games from Eastern rivals. Casey Stengel, grumbling a bit lately about his team's hitting, has nominated southpaw Bobby Shantz, 1-0, to face Paul Foytack, who sports a 2-0 record for Detroit.
Kansas City goes against the so-far disappointing Red Sox at Boston. The last-place Chicago White Sox, who have shown practically no punch at the plate at all, are at Baltimore for a night game.

Two County Groups Plan Opera Guild

First steps toward a permanent inter-county cultural organization were taken at a meeting of Riverside and San Bernardino counties opera fans, who in response to public demand, agreed to act as a steering committee for the formation of an Opera Guild, which would not only be affiliated with the Metropolitan Opera Guild and the Opera Guild of Southern California, but which would promote opera in all areas of the two counties.

Meeting at the Riverside Mission Inn, the steering committee elected Mrs. Reedford P. Shea of Riverside as temporary chairman.

Charles D. Perlee of San Bernardino, former vice president of the Opera Guild of Southern California, told how that guild and the "Met" Guild have brought thousands of people to deep appreciation of grand opera.

Appointed as community membership representatives, with whom the public can express their interest in opera, were Gwendolyn Roberts, San Bernardino, who was also named as membership chairman; Mrs. Robert S. Calkins, Riverside; and Mrs. Lloyd Hulbert, Redlands.

Also on the steering committee are Mrs. George Emmett Mullen, founder - president of Redlands Bowl, Mrs. Larra Browning Henderson, also of Redlands; Rudolfo Rulhal, Riverside; and Everett Stidham, San Bernardino.
